

Southwest Biological Science Center Weekly Highlights

January 9, 2006

USGS scientists meet to develop research protocols for Bureau of Reclamation: USGS scientists will meet January 10, 2006, in Tucson, Arizona, to coordinate and present their DOI Landscape Funding research on the lower Colorado River ecosystem. Scientists from the various USGS disciplines -biology, geography, geology, and water - will synthesize their findings and work on developing protocols to address DOI research needs at a landscape level on the Lower Colorado River. These protocols will be presented to the Bureau of Reclamation in Boulder City, NV, in late February or early March. Charles van Riper 928.556.7094, 928.556.7216, 520.626.7027
